

AquaVision 2004 & Norwegian Aquaculture Tour

Join ACG to attend the only global aquaculture business forum - AquaVision 2004 - in Stavanger, Norway, then visit aquaculture industry leaders and research institutions and tour their facilities. AquaVision 2004, the fifth edition, will be the meeting place for key fish farming players this year. It is dedicated to future industry challenges and to establishing a unique meeting place, bringing together decisions makers, politicians, farmers, processors, retailers, media and other stakeholders for an intensive period of international networking.

If you're serious about aquaculture, join us and be there!

AquaVision 2004 will have several forums relating to the main conference theme: "Making modern aquaculture the sustainable Blue Revolution - achieving the transformation from production driven to consumer led". Each of the four previous AquaVision Business Conferences, starting in 1996, has been a success with 300-400 participants from close to 30 countries. Since 2002 AquaVision has incorporated the successful Salmon Summit, organized by FAO EASTFISH (now EUROFISH).

Building on the keynote, top international speakers will present thought provoking ideas and information in four sessions:

- Sustainable aquaculture - environment, animal welfare, and material resources - ensuring modern aquaculture has a license to operate.
- Managing risk - supply and demand in the modern aquaculture value chain
- Facts and fallacies - the perceptions of modern aquaculture among consumers, citizens and the media
- Identifying and providing resources for future success

The conference is organized by Nutreco Aquaculture in co-operation with EUROFISH which has developed from the FAO EASTFISH project (United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization), BASF - a leading company in feed additives for salmon production, Fish Farming International - the leading international aquaculture magazine, and Seafood International - the major international seafood magazine.

AquaVision 2004 & Norwegian Aquaculture Tour

Proposed Tour Outline - June 20 - 26, 2004

Sunday, June 20	Arrive in Stavanger, orientation, social events, networking
Monday, June 21	Tour Nutreco Aquaculture's Research facilities in Stavanger & visit research farm
Tuesday, June 22	Register for the conference, get-together, networking
Wednesday, June 23	Conference, Conference dinner at Flor og Fjære , social event, networking
Thursday, June 24	Conference continues
Friday, June 25	Visit Marine Harvest facilities in Hjelmeland
Saturday, June 26	Travel home

Travel Arrangements & Accommodations

- Each tour participant will be responsible for their own travel arrangements from their home to and from Stavanger, Norway.
- They will also be responsible for paying for hotel accommodations and meals.
- ACG will make arrangements for, and provide, all group transportation during the tour.
- ACG will book hotel rooms for the participants, double or single occupancy.

Extras

- Participants are responsible for bringing appropriate clothing and footwear for visits to aquaculture facilities.
- Raingear is advised, as well as waterproof footwear for site visits.

Liability Waiver

- ACG is not responsible for personal loss or injury or theft of tour participants' belongings.
- Tour participants are responsible for their own health care and accident/personal injury insurance while outside their home country.

To book your spot on the tour, or for more details/questions, contact:

Tor-Eddie Fossbakk
Phone +1 248 305 9440
E-mail tor-eddie@aquacomgroup.com
Web www.aquacomgroup.com

AquaVision website <http://www.aquavision.org>